Day 02: Kathmandu

Optional: An early morning Mountain flight.

Mountain flight offers the closest possible aerial views of mount Mt. Everest, Kanchanjunga and the Tibetan Plateau. Twice the size of the Alps, their sheer immensity is mind-blowing Mountain flights appeal to all category of travelers and have become a popular tourist attraction of Nepal. The 45-minute flight offers an incredible panorama, and you can take a photograph of the world's highest mountain from the cockpit.

Return to hotel for breakfast.

Late morning, enjoy the half day sightseeing of Kathmandu Durbar Square and Swoyambhunath.

Swoyambhunath (UNESCO World Heritage Site) - Swoyambhunath literally means 'Self-Existent One.' Swoyambhunath is believed to have been established more than 2,500 years ago. An inscription dated 460 A.D. states that the construction was carried out by King Manadeva. By the thirteenth century Swoyambhunath had developed into an important Buddhist learning site. It is also known as the Monkey Temple as there are holy monkeys living in parts of the temple in the North West. Swayambhunath occupies a central position; it is probably the most sacred among Buddhist Pilgrimage sites.

Kathmandu Durbar Square is located in the heart of old city Kathmandu. There are around 50 temples in the vicinity. In this tour, we visit the 17th Century Durbar complex, Hanuman Dhoka, Paravati temple, great Bell and Drum, Bhairav and Taleju Temple.

A few steps away are the Temple of the Living Goddess, where you may catch a glimpse of the Kumari at one of the open windows overlooking the inner courtyard. All around the splendour of historical monuments is the hustle & bustle of the market place. Vegetable vendors, trees of flutes, salesmen with their wares displayed on their person, souvenir hawkers, and street shop selling imported goods and tucked away in a quiet corner the glittering bead market for custom made bead necklaces.

Later visit Patan City.

Patan, the old Newar city and see the historic Durbar Square, the Golden Gate, the sky piercing temple of Taleju and the statue of Yogendra Malla, Krishna Mandir, Sati Temple, Hiranya Varna Mahabiar (the golden temple), Mahabouddha with views of old carved wooden windows through the streets, curios shop and Bazaars.

Day 03: Kathmandu to Nagarkot (By Surface 32 Km / 1.5 Hrs)

Morning travel to Nagarkot , Upon arrival in Nagarkot, transfer to hotel.

Later enjoy half day sightseeing tour of Bhaktapur. Bhaktapur is located about 20 km east of Kathmandu and drive around 30 min. Bhaktapur is another Newar city founded in the 9th century. Bhaktapur Durbar Square is located in the center of Bhaktapur. The Square is one of the most charming architectural showpieces of the Valley as it highlights some of the finest medieval arts of Nepal. The main items of interest in Bhaktapur Durbar Square are the Lion Gate, the Golden Gate and the statues of kings on stone monoliths. The Golden Gate was erected by King Ranjit Malla as the entrance to the main courtyard of the Fifty-five Windowed Palace. The Palace of Fifty-five Windows was built during the reign of King Yakshya Malla in A.D. 1427 and was remodeled by King Bhupatindra Malla in the seventeenth century. Bhaktapur's Durbar (Royal) Square was added to the list of World Heritage Sites by UNESCO in 1979.

Later visit to Pasupatinath & Bouddhanath.

The magnificent temple of Lord Pashupatinath about 5 kms north-east of Kathmandu, is situated amidst many other temples on the right bank of the river Bagmati. The temple of Lord Pashupatinath stands in the middle of an open courtyard. Pashupati area is regarded as one of the most important places of pilgrimages for the followers of Hinduism. At the Ghats (stairs where you can descend to the river), plateaus are made that are used for the open air cremations that take place on a daily basis. The Pashupatinath temple is not accessible for non-Hindus but it is the cremations that attract many visitors.

Bouddhanath (UNESCO World Heritage Site) is the centre of Tibetan culture in Nepal. The 36-meter-high Stupa of Bouddhanath is one of the largest Stupas in South Asia. Bouddhanath Stupa was renovated by Licchavi rulers in the eighth century. The mandala design in Bouddhanath is a copy of the one in Gyangtse in Tibet. The stupa is said to entomb the remains of a Kasyap sage venerable both to Buddhists and Hindus. Smaller stupas are located at the base. Gompa monasteries, curio shops, and restaurants surround Bouddhanath. Today, Boudhanath bustles with Tibetan population, busy with carpet manufacture, trade, and prayers at the several monasteries belonging to different sects of Tibetan Buddhism.

Day 04 : Nagarkot - Pokhara

Morning by surface proceed for Pokhara.

Pokhara is a remarkable place of natural beauty. Situated at an altitude of 900m from the sea level and 200km west of Kathmandu valley, the city is known as a center of adventure. The enchanting town has several beautiful lakes and offers stunning panoramic views of Himalayan peaks.

The serenity of lakes and the magnificence of the Himalayas rising behind them create an ambience of peace and magic.

In the evening, explore Lake Side area. Day at leisure , Stay overnight at hotel. Meal Plan – Buffet Breakfast

Day 05: Pokhara

Morning excursion to Sarangkot, Sarangkot is a beautiful village best known for its sunrise, where on a clear day you can see an unobstructed view of the Himalayan Mountains of Annapurna range, Dhauligiri, Fishtail.

We suggest paragliding at Sarangkot.

"Honeymoon in Nepal & Bhutan Tour"

Paragliding in Nepal can be a truly wonderful and fulfilling experience for the adventure seeker. A trip will take you over some of the best scenery on earth, as you share airspace with Himalayan griffin vultures, eagles, kites and float over villages, monasteries, temples, lakes and jungle, with a fantastic view of the majestic Himalaya.

Later transfer to Pokhara Airport for a 15 minute Ultralight Couple Flight!

The small aircraft is designed to safely carry passengers while providing openings from both sides to allow viewing freedom. Enjoy the fresh air on your face, scenes of the mighty Annapurna range, gaze on the Peace Pagoda and Lake Phewa from the top in exhilaration! An experienced flying captain will take you on a one-to-one basis. Two aircrafts will fly in tandem for you and your spouse.

Afternoon half day sightseeing of Pokhara city including Davis fall, Bindabasini temple and Seti George.

Bindhyabasini temple is the center of religious activity in the old bazaar. It is dedicated to goddess Bhagwati. Worshippers flock here to perform sacrifices, and especially on Saturdays the park like grounds take on a festive fair. The Seti Gandaki flows right through the city; it runs completely underground at many places. There is a local myth that the entire land of Pokhara floats on the Seti River.

Devi's fall (also known as Devin's and David's) is a lovely waterfall lying about 2-Km south-west of the Pokhara airport on the Siddhartha Highway. Legend has it that a trekker (Devin, David) was washed away by the Pardi Khola and mysteriously disappeared down into an underground passage beneath the fall.

Later enjoy one hour boat ride in Phewa Lake.

Phewa Lake is the centre of attraction in Pokhara - the second largest lake in the Kingdom. It is the largest and most enchanting of the three lakes that add to the resplendence of Pokhara. Here, one can sail or row a hired boat across to the water or visit the island temple in the middle.

Day 07: Kathmandu – Paro (By Flight) – Thimpu (By Surface, 200Kms / 06 Hrs)

Morning transfer to Tribhuvan International Airport, Kathmandu for flight to Paro.

Arrive at Paro's International Airport. Following customs, immigration formalities and baggage collection, our representative will meet you as you exit the arrival terminal building after which you would be transferred to your hotel.

Paro is the international gateway to Bhutan by air.

It is a panoramic thrill flying into Paro on a clear day. The views of snow-capped mountain peaks sprawling down below makes one almost ecstatic, beginning a whole chain of memorable experiences that stay with you for a long, long time- That is Bhutan!

Later proceed by surface to Thimpu.

Thimpu is the capital town of Bhutan and the centre of government, religion and commerce. It is a unique city with unusual mixture of modern development alongside ancient traditions. With the population of about 90,000 it is perhaps still the world's only capital city without a traffic light.

En-route visit the Tachogang Lhakhang.

Tachogang Lhakhang is located along Paro-Thimphu highway, just after Isuna village and before Chhuzom, on the base of a mountain across the Pa chu river. It was built in the early 15th century by the great master architect and yogi Thangtong Gyalpo(1385-1464), who also built Dungtse Lhakhang in Paro and many iron bridges throughout Bhutan and Tibet. Tachogang means 'temple of the hill of the excellent horse'. It is said that while Thangtong Gyalpo was meditating here, he had a vision of the spiritual horse Balaha-an emanation of Avalokiteshvara. He decided there upon to build a temple at this spot, in addition to one of his famous iron bridges later carried away by floods in 1969. A traditional style bridge with iron chains was restored in 2005.

Upon arrival in Thimpu, transfer to hotel. Later visit to Tashicho Dzong.

Tashicho Dzong is a Buddhist monastery and fortress on the northern edge of the city of Thimpu in Bhutan, on the western bank of the Wang Chu. It has traditionally been the seat of the Druk Desi (or "Dharma Raja"), the head of Bhutan's civil government, an office which has been combined with the kingship since the creation of the monarchy in 1907, and summer capital of the country. It was built by the first Dharma Raja, who also founded the Lho-drukpa sect of Buddhism, which has remained the distinctive sect of Bhutan.

Day 08: Thimpu – Paro

Morning visit to Memorial Chorten.

Memorial Chorten was built in 1974 in the memory of Bhutan's third King, Late Majesty, Jigme Dorji Wangchuck, regarded as the "Father of Modern Bhutan". The paintings and statues inside the monument provide a deep insight into Tantric Buddhism.

Later drive to Paro, visiting Simtokha Dzong enroute.

Simtokha Dzong is located around 5km south of Thimphu center. In the valley below the road are the plant-and-soil-protection project, the National Mushroom Centre and the large-red-roofed Royal Institute of Management. Simtokha Dzong officially known as Sangak Zabdhon Phodrang (Palace of the Profound Meaning of Secret Mantras), Simtokha Dzong was built in 1629 by Shabdrung Ngawang Namgyal. It is often said to be the first dzong built in Bhutan. In fact, there were Dzongs in Bhutan as early as 1153, but this is the first Dzong built by the Shabdrung, is the oldest that has survived as a complete structure, and is the first administrative facilities. It is the home of the Institute for Language and Culture Studies; the students are both monks and lay people.

Upon arrival in Paro, transfer to hotel.

Later in the day after checking into hotel, proceed to visit Ta Dzong.

Ta Dzong was originally built as Watchtower, which now houses National Museum. The extensive collection includes antique paintings, textiles, weapons & armour, household objects and a rich assortment of natural and historic artifacts.

Then walk down the trail to visit Rinpung Dzong, meaning ("fortress of the heap of jewels"), which has a long and fascinating history. Along the wooden galleries lining the inner courtyard are fine wall paintings illustrating Buddhist lore such as four friends, the old man of long life, the wheel of life, scenes from the life of Milarepa, Mount Sumeru and other cosmic Mandala. Evening at leisure

Stay overnight at hotel. Meal Plan – All meals

Day 09: Paro

Morning excursion to Taktshang Monastery

It is one of the most famous of Bhutan's monasteries, perched on the side of a cliff 900m above the Paro valley floor. It is said that Guru Rinpoche arrived here on the back of a tigress and meditated at this monastery and hence it is called 'Tiger's Nest'.

This site has been recognized as a most sacred place and visited by Shabdrung Ngawang Namgyal in 1646 and now visited by all Bhutanese at least once in their lifetime. On 19 April, 1998, a fire severely damaged the main structure of building but now this Bhutanese jewel has been restored to its original splendor.

Later, proceed on sightseeing tour to Kichu Lhakhang, Drukgyal Dzong and old folk house.

Kyichu Lhakhang is an important Himalayan Buddhist temple situated in Lamgong Gewog of Paro District in Bhutan. The Jowo Temple of Kyichu is one of the oldest temples in Bhutan, originally built in the 7th century by the Tibetan Emperor Songsten Gampo. It is considered to be one of the 108 border taming temples he built.

Drukgyal Dzong was a fortress and Buddhist monastery, now in ruins, located in the upper part of the Paro valley in Paro District of Bhutan. The Dzong was probably built by Tenzin Drukdra in 1649 at the behest of Shabdrung Ngawang Namgyal to commemorate victory over an invasion from Tibet. In the early 1950s Drukgyal Dzong was almost completely destroyed by fire.
